

THE LEVANTE PARLIAMENT

The waiting has paid off, The Levante Parliament, the new superlative hotel in Vienna opened its doors on 22nd May, 2006. It is a member of Design Hotels.

The house, built in 1908 in the classical modernist "Bauhaus" style, is today protected by a preservation order. The most distinctive features of the imposing architecture are the lineal forms on which a century later the design of today's hotel has been based. All furnishings and fittings used remain true to this innovative architecture.

The hotel incorporates 70 rooms and suites, fitness and sauna area, restaurant and bar.

Apart from the unusual architecture and love of detail that distinguish this hotel, there is a gallery offering not only an exclusive exhibition of glass by the international artist Ioan Nemtoi but also a series of unusual and stunning photographs taken specially for the hotel by Curt Themessl.

The international artist in glass, Ioan Nemtoi exhibits his outstanding glass objects over 4.600m² throughout the hotel. The Rumanian born artist in partnership with the architect August Hufnagel have created the restaurant and bar in which art and modern design are combined.

Curt Themessl, an internationally famous Viennese photographer, has created an exclusive collection of 420 exceptional and breathtaking black and white photographs of ballet dancers from the Vienna State Opera.

The art works on display may be purchased by hotel guests.

THE LEVANTE PARLIAMENT

The use of the elements of life – fire (light and transparency), earth (natural materials), air (all rooms have a height of 3.30m) and water(movement and fluidity) are combined with all the modern comforts of a first class hotel. The “element” glass is used in large glass walls dividing the bathroom and living area, the bathroom doors and the shower.

Indirect lighting throughout the hotel creates not only a spectacular effect but a warm and friendly atmosphere.

Stunning design and modern art are mirrored in the Nemtoi Restaurant-Bar. The Glass Designer Ioan Nemtoi was the inspiration for our restaurant. The culinary highlights are the creations by the Chef de Cuisine Bernhard Laimer who was exclusively committed in September 2007. Laimer is spoiling national and international gourmets with his team. The constantly changing menu will be appropriate to the seasons.

The Nemtoi Bar, with its incomparable design, acts as a platform for new style sprits and creations in liquid form. The bar itself, designed by Ioan Nemtoi, is the only glass bar in Vienna and along with the four breathtaking red glass panel room dividers, make an amazing visual impact.

In addition to this, the exceptionally beautiful 400m² courtyard garden invites guests to relax and unwind.

Director of Sales & Marketing, Mrs Christina Siller, yet another expert in her field has been with this enterprise since August 2005 and is responsible for both hotels in the group (The Levante Laudon with 39 apartments opened in January, 2006 after extensive renovation) . Mrs Siller was previously sales manager for the Imperial and Bristol Hotel.

Not only will the Viennese hotel scene be enriched by a new breathtaking Design Hotel, The Levante Parliament, but the international reputation of Vienna as a modern and trendy city will be enhanced. We are certain that under this young but experienced and professional team the hotel will quickly achieve its rightful place in Vienna.
